Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gosior et al., US Patent 6,684,062 (Gosior).

3. Regarding claims 1, 6-8, 12-14, 16-18, 22-26 and 28-34, Gosior discloses a wireless (RF) gaming system and method comprising a host (12/14) that receives game controller data and determines QOS on the received controller data based on data packets, wherein transmission power management at the game controller is based on the QOS of the received game controller data (Col. 10 lines 14-25); and a general-purpose game controller (10) that transmits the game controller data to the host, receives host data from the host and determines QOS on the received host data based on data packets, wherein reception power management at the game controller is based on the QOS of the received host data (Col. 9, line 50 – Col. 10, line 5).

4. Regarding claims 2-5, 19-20, 27, Gosior discloses adjusting the power levels dynamically (Col. 10, lines 4-5) which is equivalent to increasing and decreasing power/sensitivity based on the QOS and other data control information.

5. Regarding claims 9, 11, 15, 21, Gosior discloses the host being a base transceiver and electronic game device that comprises a processor and interface to receive game controller data coupled to the processor (Col. 4, line 42 – Col. 5, line 13) wherein the processor determines if the game controller data has been correctly received (Col. 5, line 43 – Col. 6, line 15; in addition, the host contains an LED that shows status information of the transmission and reception of information, which inherently includes correctness of the transmission).

6. Regarding claims 10, Gosior discloses the game controller having a processor to determine if the host data has been correctly received and an interface to receive host data (Col. 3, line 61 – Col. 4, line 24; the controller contains an LED that shows status information of the transmission and reception of information, which inherently includes correctness of the transmission).

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

8. US Patent 6,238,289 discloses a RF controller that adjusts power levels.

9. US 2004/0063497 and US 20070149150 disclose systems that used QOS to control power levels.
